Terms of Service: Steam Value Checker

Last updated: October 26, 2026

By using Steam Value Checker ("the bot") you agree to these terms.

1. What it is. The bot shows price information for games, using data from IsThereAnyDeal. It is a convenience tool, not financial or purchasing advice.
2. Accuracy. Prices change quickly and can be wrong, out of date or missing. Title matching can pick the wrong game. The bot gives no guarantee that a price is available to you or that a store will honour it. Check the store before you buy.
3. Your input. Do not post game keys, passwords or other secrets to the bot. Do not use it to break the rules of Discord, Steam, IsThereAnyDeal or any store.
4. Fair use. The bot limits how often you can run commands. Do not try to get around those limits or overload the bot or its data provider.
5. Availability. The bot is provided as is, without warranty. It can change, stop working or be removed at any time without notice.
6. Liability. To the extent the law allows, the author is not responsible for any loss caused by using the bot or relying on its information.
7. No affiliation. The bot is not affiliated with or endorsed by Valve, Steam, Fanatical, IsThereAnyDeal or Discord. Names and trademarks belong to their owners.
8. Wishlist alerts. If you use `/me wishlist`, you agree that the bot stores the data listed in PRIVACY.md and sends you alerts by direct message, or in a server's alert channel as described there. You can stop at any time with `/alerts pause` or `/me mydata delete`. Alerts are best effort: they can be late, missed or wrong, and a price may be gone by the time you click. Do not rely on them for time-critical purchases.
9. Server admins. An alert channel posts members' alerts, including game names, to everyone who can see it. Choose it with that in mind.
10. Privacy. See PRIVACY.md.
11. Changes. These terms may be updated. Continued use means you accept the updated terms.
